You have had a COVID-19, Antibody test done at Urgent Care of Longwood in the past. We want to clarify, that the rapid antibody finger stick test is not a diagnostic test. We have discontinued the antibody testing. We currently offer the rapid nasal Antigen test.

The Antigen test is a swab of the nose that detects the active virus to determine if you have COVID-19 and could be infectious. The Antibody test is a finger stick blood test that detects antibody that suggest you have had the virus in the past, but does not mean you would be immune to COVID-19 if you test positive.

If you would like to be tested with the rapid nasal Antigen test, feel free to come in.

Sincerely,

Urgent Care of Longwood
